CROPS IN 1910.

Corn Leads With $1,5239,68,000—Drop in Prices of 8.5 Per Cent. on All Crops.

Final estimates for 1910 by the crop reporting bureau of the agricultural department give the total value of all important crops on December 1st as $3,735,464,000 against $3,971,426,000 on December 1st last year.

The averages of prices was about 8.5 per cent. lower on December 1st this year than last.

Following are the estimates of bushels in weight:

Corn, 3,125,713,000 bushels, from 114,002,000 acres; total farm value, $1,523,968,000, or 48.8 cents a bushel.

Winter wheat, 464,044,000 bushels, from 29,427,000 acres; value, $413,575,000, or 89.1 cents a bushel.

Spring wheat; 231,399,000 bushels, from 19,778,000 acres; value, $207,868,000, or 89.8 cents a bushel.

All wheat, 695,443,000 bushels, from 49,205,000 acres; value, $621,443,000, or 89.4 cents a bushel.

Oats, 1,126,765,000 bushels, from 35,288,000 acres; value, $384,716,000, or 34.1 cents a bushel.

Tobacco, 984,349,000 pounds, from 1,233,800 acres; value, $91,459,000 or 9.3 cents a pound.

Rice, 24,510,000 bushels, equivalent to 5,930,000 bags of 186 pounds, from 722,800 acres; value, $16,624,000, or 67.8 cents a bushel.

Flaxseed, 14,116,000 bushels, from 2,916,000 acres; value, $32,554,000, or $2.30 a bushel.

Barley, 162,227,000 bushels, from 7,257,000 acres; value, $93,785,000, or 57.8 a bushel.

Rye, $33,039,000 bushels, from 2,028,000 acres; value, $23,840,000, or 72.2 cents a bushel.

Buckwheat, 17,239,000 bushels, from 826,000 acres; value, $11,321,000, or 65.7 cents a bushel.

Potatoes, 338,811,000 bushels, from 3,591,000 acres; value, $187,985,000, or 55.5 cents a bushel.

Hay, 60,978,000 tons from 45,691,000 acres, $747,769,000, or $12.26.

State Grange Officers.

Before the meeting of the State Grange, at Butler, there was some opposition to Hon. W. T. Creasy for a second term as master of the state organization, but the opposition was of such a character that it vanished when the body assembled. He was the only candidate presented, and was elected without a dissenting vote. The officers are:

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Master, W. T. Creasy, Columbia county.
Overseer, S. S. Blyholder, Armstrong county.
Steward, Theodore M. Klein, Wayne county.
Assistant Steward, G. D. Appleby, Potter county.
Chaplain, H. G. Teagarden, Jefferson county.
Treasurer, S. E. Nevin, Chester county, re-elected.
Secretary, J. T. Allman, Juniata county, re-elected.
Gate Keeper, Alex. Strittmatter, Cambria county, re-elected.
Ceres, Hannah McK. Lyons, Chester county.
Pomona, Mrs. Louis Piolett, Bradford county.
Flora, Mrs. J. J. Brunger, Wyoming county.
Lady Assistant Steward, Mary D. Howden, McKean county.
Executive committee, three years, Charles D. Dildine, Columbia county; executive committee, two years, William Armstrong, Luzerne county; finance committee, two years, J. A. Herr, Clinton county; finance committee, one year, D. B. McWilliams, Mifflin county.

Officers Installed.

The officers-elect of Lady State Rebekah Lodge, No. 322, I. O. O. F., at State College, were inducted into office by Mrs. Mary Hoy, district deputy grand master, of Bellefonte. The officers are: Noble grand, Mrs. Clyde Sheffler; vice grand, Mrs. R. Heverly; financial secretary, Miss Maude Hoy; recording secretary, Miss Carrie Gast; treasurer, Mrs. Hattie Evey; supporters to noble grand, Mrs. O. F. Shaw and Mrs. William Thompson; supporters to vice grand, Miss Nannie Gast and Mrs. Rebecca Shuey; conductor, Mrs. Bridge Harter; warden, Miss Jennie Womer; guardians, M. C. Meginney-Hood and Mrs. Mary Womer; chaplain, Mrs. George T. Graham.

At the close of the session bounteous refreshments were served. Altogether it was an evening well spent in social intercourse.

Large Porkers.

Millheim and Coburn are coming forward with their usual quota of heavy porkers. Here are a few weights given together with the names of the parties who grew them:

MILLHEIM.

I. A. Shawver, 5	2413
L. E. Stover, 2	798
H. E. Duck, 1	463
J. C. Hosterman, 3	1090
F. O. Hosterman, 2	965
J. G. Eby, 2	800

COBURN.

Nicodemus Lose, 2	1132
Jacob Kerstetter, 3	1414
J. W. Kerstetter, 1	444
W. J. Harter, 1	518

Col. Talking Roosevelt is lecturing again, but he does not undertake to say how it happened in the beginning of November.

Delige Sentenced.

Bert Delige, who was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Hulda Baudis, was on Saturday sentenced by Judge Orvis to be hanged.

The court gave the condemned murderer a lecturing before pronouncing the final sentence. Delige stood erect, and kept his eyes on the judge.

The date for the execution will be fixed by the governor. The likelihood is Governor Stuart will leave this bit of business for his successor, John K. Tener, to perform.

Party at McKinney's.

The home of Assistant Forester William McKinney, on the state lands above Potters Mills, was enlivened Wednesday evening of last week with music and tripping to time. Those present were: Frona Royer, Bessie Harshbarger, Ruth A. Royer, Nona Smith, Anna Parker, Alice Decker, Bessie Krise, Maude Meeker, Lydia Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Ashbridge Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Krise, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parker and family, J. F. McCoy, George H. Thomas, R. V. Thomas, L. E. Smith, Perry Koonsman, Max Harshbarger, J. Harrison Faust, Harry Harshbarger, James Lingle, Harry Wilkinson, Fred H. Royer, L. E. Meeker, Bruce Meeker, J. Sidney Royer, John H. Bitner, violinist.

Hennigh Farm Sold.

About one year ago the Hennigh farm, east of Old Fort on the old turnpike, was purchased at public sale for $7000 by B. D. Brisbin & Company, a lumber firm, and last week it was sold by them to Capt. G. M. Boal, of Centre Hall. The farm contains one hundred acres. During their ownership, the lumber company cut off the timber lying to the south of the buildings.

C. W. Slack, now on the Ross farm at Farmers Mills, Mr. Boal's son-in-law, will occupy the farm in question after next spring. The farm is well located, which added considerably to its selling price.

Plans for a New Milling Building.

Professor Dedrick, head of the department of milling engineering, has practically completed a set of drawings for a proposed milling building for the school of engineering. The mill as designed is to be of the latest and most improved type and will be equipped with the best machinery. Several leading manufacturers of flour mill machinery have already agreed to present valuable apparatus for this equipment.

Sledding Party.

Friday evening a sledding party enjoyed themselves at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brooks, west of Centre Hall. The young people, who are from Pleasant Gap, Linden Hall and Centre Hall, were these:

Cora Peters, Mable Keen, Hazel Coil, Leona, Rebecca, and Guy Wieland, Zella Evy, Ethel Zettle, May Rice, Elsie Herman, Esther and Virginia Markle, Romie and Tevola Reish, Alta Rimmey, Marian Gettig, Harry Kuhn, James Meyer, Frank Reish, Lee Zong, Joe Ross, Lester Shuey, Lloyd Shawver, Earl Rimmey, Clawrence Blazier, Douglas Brooks.

Board of Health Appointed.

At a special meeting of the Centre Hall borough council, the following persons were appointed members of a permanent board of health to be legally organized, the terms of office to be from one to five years:

Dr. W. H. Schuyler, one year;
Dr. G. W. Hosterman, two years;
G. L. Goodhart, three years;
W. A. Krise, four years;
J. V. Foster, M. D., five years.

No Paper Next Week.

The Centre Reporter will not be issued next week. This will give the office force an opportunity to enjoy the holiday season with the rest of humanity.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

DEATHS.

William T. Speer died at Corry, Monday of last week, aged seventy-four years and a few days. The remains were interred at Bellefonte Wednesday afternoon following his death, Rev. Hewitt officiating. The members of Constans Commandery conducted the services at the grave.

For some time Mr. Speer suffered from a foreign growth in his mouth and face, and was taken to the sanitorium at Corry with the hope of finding relief.

Mr. Speer had been prominent in affairs in Bellefonte since 1873, at which time he located there, coming to that place from Franklin county, where he had been employed on a railroad. He was interested in the Bellefonte car shops when they were erected, and later on together with Jack McClellan conducted the same as a planing mill. He was a successful candidate on the Democratic ticket in 1890 for the office of county treasurer, and served with credit. He was a good citizen and was held in high esteem by all his acquaintances.

After coming to Bellefonte he was in 1877 united in marriage to Miss Kate Larimer, of Pleasant Gap, who survives, together with five children by the first union, namely: Francis Speer, of Bellefonte; Edward, of Hoxie, Kansas; Mrs. Harris Mann, of Lewistown; William, of Pittsburg, and Irvin, of St. Louis. He is also survived by three brothers and one sister, as follows: James, of Albilene, Kansas; Hon. David Speer, of Chambersburg; Mark, of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Martin Ramp, of near Shippensburg.

Mrs. H. W. Dinges, of Centre Hall, was shocked to hear of the sudden death of her father, David C. Stine, in Tipton, which occurred sometime Thursday morning, due to heart failure. Interment was made Monday afternoon, from the home of his son in Tyrone.

Mr. Stine was born in Lebanon county, and was aged seventy-four years and seventeen days. He was a carpenter by trade and for a number of years was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss E. A. Wagner, daughter of Rev. J. P. Wagner, an Evangelical minister located at that time in Millheim, to whom two children were born, namely, Edward W. Stine, of Tyrone, and Mrs. H. W. Dinges, in Centre Hall. The second wife, who survives, was Margaret Zentmyer, of Alexandria. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Weaver, of Unionville, and Mrs. C. B. Wagner, of Lebanon, also survive.

Early in the sixties Mr. Stine located in Centre Hall, and erected the tannery plant which now exists only in history, and the Bitner property, owned by Cook Hubler. During the beginning of the seventies he sold out the tannery and his holdings here, and moved to Old Fort, from there to Millheim, then to Bellefonte, and about 1873 he located in Tyrone.

Prof. John F. Harrison died at his home at Jersey Shore, Tuesday afternoon of last week. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases.

He was a native of Pleasant Gap, and when a boy attended school at Centre Hall. He began teaching school early in life, and was successful in that profession, and for a number of years was principal of the Bellefonte grammar school. He was a candidate for the office of county superintendent about nine years ago, and was supported by a number of directors.

Mr. Harrison was united in marriage to Miss Jennie E. Barnes, who survives with one daughter, Miss Laura, an instructor in the Jersey Shore High school. The following brothers and sisters also survive: William, of Petersburg; Bruce, of Boalsburg; Charles, of Altoona; Mrs. William E. Hoy, of State College; Mrs. William Rimmey, of Jersey Shore, and Miss Nell, of Williamsport. He was a member of the Methodist church, the Bellefonte Lodge I. O. O. F, and the Modern Woodmen. Interment was made in Bellefonte on Saturday.

Mrs. George D. Johnston died at her home near Curtin, after an illness of some weeks. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes and was born in Howard on January 29th, 1842. She was married to Mr Johnston in 1863 and most of her life since was spent in Curtin. Surviving her are her husband and the following children: Harrry H., of Fresno, California; Mrs. Crissie D. Tanner and J. Kennedy Johnston, Esq, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Bessie C. Brooks, of Waterville, Lycoming county; Mrs. Ella M. Foresman, of Howard, and Miss Lula, at home.

Mrs. Boston Campbell died Saturday morning at her home near Meek's church, above State College, after but a few days illness with typhoid pneumonia. Her age was about seventy years. Interment was made Tuesday forenoon, at Meek's church.

Before marriage, Mrs. Campbell was Mariah Potter. She is survived by two daughters—Agnes and Bertha, and one son—Isaac. Her husband also survives, as do one brother and three sisters, namely, Fergus Potter, Misses Asentha, Mary Ann and Phoebe Potter, all of Linden Hall.

Miss Eva Archey, daughter of John Archey, of Mackeyville, died Thursday morning of pneumonia. For eight years she had been an operator in the Commercial telephone exchange in Bellefonte. She was aged about twenty-eight years. Five weeks ago Miss Archey underwent an operation in the Bellefonte hospital.

Mrs. Mary Lyons died at Milroy. Interment was made Saturday. She was aged about fifty-five years, and was the daughter of Henry Guisewite, deceased, west of Centre Hall. One son, Samuel Meyer, survives, as do also several sisters.

Charles Miller, of Salem, Snyder county, member of the State House of Representatives in 1877 and 1883, died at his country home after an illness covering a period of five years. He was aged seventy years.

William Reese died at his home in Bellefonte, Friday night, aged ninety-one years. Death was due to old age. He was the father of Deputy Revenue Collector G. W. Reese.

Ruth, aged three years and six months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnstonbaugh, of Pine Grove Mills, died recently. Interment was made at Pine Hall.

LOCALS.

The ice men began harvesting the crop last week.

If it is cold now we have the satisfaction of knowing that Winter began yesterday (Wednesday.)

With this issue the Centre Reporter publishes its fiftieth paper during 1910, consequently the issue of next week will be omitted.

The farmers and the school teachers are having the greatest opportunities of the year this week. The former are being instructed at State College and the latter at Bellefonte. Lasting results will come from both institutes.

Lyman L. Smith purchased a driving horse a short time ago which will be used by him during the winter months to gather in shipments of hay, straw, etc. Next spring Mr. Smith expects to again take up the work with the International Harvester Company.

Dr. Francis V. Ely, well known in Philipsburg, having married Miss Edna Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howe, of that city, and who practiced medicine a little while here and at Morrisdale and Smiths Mills, ended his life at his home in Pittsburg by shooting himself in the right temple.

One dollar will buy a Christmas gift that will be delivered fifty times during the year right to the door of the person you designate. Reference is made to The Centre Reporter. It will carry the news good and bad, joyous and sad (but always true) one year for one dollar. Remember some member of your family who is away from home who is not now a subscriber.

W. A. Carson will next spring become tenant on the Coburn farm, near Spring Mills, as was stated in the these columns some weeks ago. The parties interested in the Coburn farm have selected Joseph K. Bitner, of Farmers Mills, as their representative, who leased the farm to Mr. Carson. Samuel Alters, the present tenant on the Coburn farm, will move to Brush Valley on a farm near Rebersburg.

The Pennsylvania State Grange, at Butler, was well attended by members of the various subordinate Granges in Centre county. Those in attendance whose names came under the notice of the Reporter are these: Hon. L. Rhone, Miss Florence Rhone, Mrs. D. W. Bradford, Mrs. Samuel Durst, Mrs. R. D. Foreman, George W. Gingerich, Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dale, Dales Summit; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace White, Axe Mann; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Campbell, Linden Hall; Prof. Thomas I. Mairs, Prof. H. E. Van Norman, State College; Harry Koch, Milo Campbell, Pennsylvania Furnace; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gobble, Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sankey, Coburn; Zwingley Hoy, Zion; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Eves, Half Moon; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Poorman, Milesburg.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers' Correspondent Column—New Department.

DENVER, Colorado, Dec. 12.

Editor of the Reporter:

We have been seeing a little of the world, outside Pennsylvania, and now as we are settled here for a few weeks, at least, we begin to feel that a little Centre county news would be a very agreeable change. Mrs. Homan and myself left Altoona, November 19th. Three days were spent in Bellevue, Ohio, with George Fike and family; from there to Fostoria, Bloomdale, then the beautiful historic Perrysburg, on the Maumee river. We walked over the battle field where a fine monument has lately been erected on the site of the old Fort. The cemetery at this place is worth a journey of many miles to see. It is most beautifully kept; the evergreen trees are trimmed into lovely and fanciful shapes. If you are ever in northwestern Ohio, go to Perrysburg; you will find both place and people delightful.

Just a few hours in Toledo—rattle, rush, boom, and I began to wonder! is this the west? One day more, and we entered Chicago. Then we thought of Toledo as a nice, quiet town. We went to the stock yards, of course. Everybody that we talked with who had ever been in Chicago, said "be sure and go to the stock yards." The fat stock show which is held once a year was on, so we followed the crowd; paid fifty cents admission and went in. Well I thought I had seen some fine stock in my time but this was beyond anything I ever imagined. It takes two years, they tell me, to bring these steers up to the mark. Meat from like cattle retails in the city at fifty cents a pound. And the horses! I never saw a picture that would equal them for perfection and beauty.

We were entertained in Chicago by Reuben Swartz, who thirty years ago was a resident of Millheim. Mrs. Swartz is a cousin of Mrs. Homan. I was glad to shake hands in a strange land with a Centre county man, and we talked a little, and then some more.

From Chicago we went St. Josephs, Missouri, where we were glad to rest for a night. Going through Nebraska by daylight, we seemed to see only miles of corn fields and droves of hogs—black and brown hogs, no white ones. At five o'clock on the evening of December 3rd, we reached the pretty little town of Diller, Nebraska, where we stayed over Sunday with another cousin of Mrs. Homan's, B. F. Lightner, whose wife, though born and brought up in the west, is a descendant from an old Pennsylvania family. The highest compliment I can pay these charming western women is this: as cooks they equal our own Centre county women.

At five p. m., December 5th, we took up the last stage of our delightful journey, and at 7 a. m. on the following day, we entered Denver. We are doing what is known here as "light housekeeping." It seems to me much like the "play house dinners" we used to have when mother made us "saucer pies." Now if you will kindly change the address from Altoona to 215 West 14th avenue, Denver, Colorado, the Reporter will be a most welcome visitor, as will also the Editor should he choose to come this way.

Very sincerely yours
HOWARD HOMAN.

[Mr. Homan formerly lived in Centre Hall, where he followed the carpenter trade, but has lived at Mingoville and Altoona for some years.]

To My Friends in Centre County:

For the benefit of those who have not personally seen or investigated the Winnie-Stowell country, I would state that it is every thing it has been represented to be. The climate, the soil, the opportunities and the enthusiasm are here to stay.

Although there are dark sides which will in all cases appear, no one but the unwise would overlook that matter. But I do not think there is another country to be found that will afford the opportunities for a man of limited means to get a start in life financially, equaled to the gulf coast country in general.

The proof is plentiful, all necessary is ambition enough to push the work along, and not let little things worry you too much. And one of the important things is to depend on yourself as much as possible. But never overlook good advice which is of much importance to the settler. I can say that I found conditions in general better than I expected and I am very well pleased with the country.

Yours truly,
J. WALLLACE BRUNGART.
Houston, Texas, November 30.

Find enclosed money order for the Centre Reporter, which we do not want to do without. Although most of the people whose names are mentioned are strangers, we also find items concerning old acquaintances. We have very fine winter weather; warm, and an abundance of rain. The summer was very dry, crops very good notwithstanding.

MRS E. G. HOFFER.

The man who argues that the "cabbage snake" or "thread worm" is deadly poison is likely to have a head on his shoulders that this particular kind of "snake" would thrive on. The "cabbage snake" and its deadly poison has been widely exploited. There is such a thing as a "thread worm" sometimes found in cabbage heads, but the "beast" has no poisonous qualities. Cabbage is just as wholesome a food now as it was before some misinformed smarty discovered the "snake" in question.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

You are reading the last issue of the Reporter for 1910.

Winter is just two days old. What a husky youngster it is.

Friday night the zero point was reached. This was the second offense.

The supply of sleighs and sleds was considerably less than the demand for them during the past few weeks.

Miss Ruth Krise left for Johnstown on last Saturday to spend the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Krise.

Mrs. I. V. Musser and sons, Harold and William, of Mifflinburg, were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer, in Centre Hall.

A. B. Lee, Esq, administrator on the estate of Amos Lee, Potter township, deceased advertises the real estate of the decedant. See advertisement in this issue.

Miss Fermore Hoover, who for some years has been a member of the family of James W. Runkle at the Centre Hall hotel, is spending the Christmas season in Lock Haven, with her mother.

Kerlins Grand View Poultry Farm received an order of twelve S. C. W. Leghorn cockerels from the Department of Animal Husbandry, Penn. State College. Shipment was made last week.

The Mifflinburg Telegraph makes mention of the illness of Miss Maude Ocker, a clerk in the Gast store. Miss Ocker is a sister of Forest Ocker, and was a member of his family when he lived in Centre Hall.

The Mifflinburg Telegraph is persuading itself that because the Pennsylvania Railroad Company knows it needs a station at Mifflinburg, it will build one. The Centre Reporter had the same idea as to Centre Hall, but it was mistaken—the old station was simply enlarged.

With a long list of applicants to select from, the County Commissioners appointed S. S. Miles, of Port Matilda, mercantile appraiser. If they could have done so, no doubt these officials would have been willing to favor each of the aspirants with an appointment of some kind.

Among the young men who will begin farming next spring is Charles Ross, of Linden Hall, who will move onto the Miss Mary Potter farm, west of Centre Hall. George Harshbarger, the present tenant on that farm, will move to Hublersburg, to occupy a farm owned by his father-in-law.

Saturday evening the Sunday-school connected with the Lutheran church, in Georges Valley, will hold their Christmas exercises. The program is entitled "That Wonderful Night." This Sunday-school, in years gone by, has held a number of most excellent entertainments, and the one announced for this year will no doubt excel any of those in the past.

D. L. Bartges and granddaughter, Ruth Irene Bartges, were among the Reporter's callers on Saturday. Mr. Bartges was seriously considering taking the Texas excursion on Monday, but at the last moment decided to later on in the winter accompany Julian Fleming to Seattle, Washington, and from there follow the coast to Texas. Mr. Bartges will go west and south with pleasure only in view.

While Millheim, Coburn and Boalsburg have somewhat of a reputation for growing heavy hogs, Centre Hall is by great odds the poultry centre in Penns Valley. Besides the large henneries of Kerlin & Son and Charles D. Bartholomew, there are a number of others who have flocks of birds receiving the best of attention and are earning a good dividend. Among these latter are Mrs. John G. Dauberman, Frank E. Arney, Reuben Garis, ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart, Rev. S. A. Snyder, John G. Rossman, James From, H. W. Dinges, B. H. Arney, W. E. Crawford, D. W. Bradford, and I. A. Sweetwood.

The agents along the L. & T. were called to Williamsport, Thursday of last week, to hear more talk on good roads—not good railroads, but good wagon roads leading to the stations on the Pennsy's branch. The road problem is such a great one that it will require much agitation before the roads in rural sections will be materially improved, yet every little helps. When the road question once reaches a point where money on the public roads is not wasted, the question will have reached a new solution. There is much good, hard earned money misapplied by well-meaning supervisors. The first aim should be to correct this condition. If all the money and labor expended on the roads during the past twenty years would have been well directed, the present roads would show the results, but do they?

WORLD GROWING BETTER

Every issue of a newspaper which tries to record the most important events of the day seems to be on its face an indictment of the human race and modern civilization. Stories of greed, oppression, wrongs and crime often take up most of the rpace in its columns. The effect upon the reader is sometimes to make him think, for the moment at least, that the world is growing more hard and cruel, and that society, as it is constituted, is a failure. But such a view is all wrong, and the thoughtful reader soon realizes it. The world is growing better all the time, and humanity is steadily advancing from one plane of life to another. The reason there seems more wickedness is that the people of the earth are in closer communication with one another than they were only a few years ago, says the Cleveland Leader. Crimes which once remained unknown to all but a comparatively few are now revealed to the entire civilized world, that it may know the sort of men it must suppress, the extent of the harm they inflict and the manner in which they are dealt with. Wrongs which once flourished because they were hidden are now dragged into the light of day and exposed in all their meanness in the pages of the newspapers. Modern civilization, through its most powerful agency for progress, the public press, lays bare the hitherto hidden wounds inflicted upon society, that they may be cured and their repetition prevented. No, the world is not growing worse. There is less of poverty, crime and suffering than existed only a few years ago. Life is easier, more profitable and more full of joy. The man with the shovel gets more out of it than did the man with the two-handed sword in his castle, a brief remove back in the life of the race.

Exchanging professors with American institutions of learning is an increasing practise among educators abroad. For several years the interchange has been going on between this country and Germany, and some of the ablest of our teachers have served in Berlin and elsewhere, while German professors have done similar work in American universities and colleges, says the Troy Times. Now a prominent business man of Copenhagen has given $100,000 to the Scandinavian-American Society to promote the interchange of professors between American and Danish universities. The Rhodes scholarships, through which American students receive the benefit of advanced courses at England's great university of Oxford, furnish another illustration of the solidarity of learning which incidentally must tend to draw nations nearer to one another.

Runaway matches have been known to turn out ideally, but not often. Their average course is toward wreckage and wretchedness. The very need of secrecy and flight is generally indicative of a fault in the scheme somewhere, and young girls who are willing to defy parental love and care and marry by stealth need feel no surprise when their idols' feet turn out to be clay, and a poor variety of that. Spite of the jokesmiths, the cartoonists and the waggish poets, marriage is the most serious step in the lives of men and women, says the Boston Post. Even the mature ought to give it at least as respectable consideration as they would any other investment. Boys and girls need to take advice on the matter, not railroad trains to a quick-service city clerk's office somewhere "across the line."

The many exposures of smuggling by rich women shows a curious cast of the feminine mind. In nearly every instance the culprit was aware of the law and that she was violating it; but few, if any, regarded the statute seriously and doubted even in the event of detection that it would be applicable to her own individual instance. Most women of this class have never come in contact with the law, having lived in a realm in which their own will was sovereign. That the law is no respecter of persons they have had to learn, and those who will take to themselves the lesson should be better citizens and certainly more familiar with the institutions of their country.

Among the fashion notes of the day is one to the effect that there is war between the large and the small bonnets. In such a strife no doubt the principal weapon of offense and defense wielded by the ladies will be the hatpin.

When the czar and the kaiser met they kissed; but the salutation of the governor of North Carolina and the governor of South Carolina had far more spirit to it.

MANY ARRESTED IN POSTAL RAIDS

Fraudulent Use of the Mails Charged.

IN NEW JERSEY AND PENNSYLVANIA.

Arrests Ordered By Postmaster General, Who Had Inspectors At Work On Cases for Month and a Half—Seven Of the Defendants Given Hearing In Philadelphia—Physician Is Also Accused Of Making Fraudulent Statements Through the Mails.

Philadelphia (Special).—Nineteen arrests were made Friday in towns in Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the government's crusade against persons accused of using the mails to defraud. The arrests were made by postal inspectors and all the defendants were given hearings before United States Commissioners and held in bail for trials or for further hearings, on charges of "using the mails to defraud."

Seven of the defendants were given hearings in Philadelphia. These were four officials of the Chain Shoe Store syndicate with offices in this city; two constitute the Pine Heights Company, a New Jersey land improvement concern with Philadelphia connections and the seventh is a local physician. The complete list of defendants with the results of their hearings follow:

Chain Shoe Store Syndicate, Louis L. Rice, president, Philadelphia; Andrew C. Patterson, first vice-president, also president of the Excelsior Trust Company of Philadelphia; Edgar Phling, the second vice-president and treasurer; George H. Brooks, third vice-president, Philadelphia. Each was held in $1,000 for a further hearing.

Pine Heights Company, Harry F. Stanton, Ocean City, N. J. Waived hearing and held in $500 bail for trial.

Others Arrested.

Other individuals arrested were:

Dr. J. B. Hornstein, Philadelphia, $800 for court.

Charles B. McKee, Huntingdon, Pa., $1,000 for a further hearing.

J. S. Leepsch, Ridgway, Pa., $2,500 for further hearing.

John A. Weltzel, Lancaster, Pa., $1,000 for trial.

Abram G. Stauffer and Oscar A. Stauffer, Palmyra, Pa., $5,500 each for court.

William S. Leam, Lebanon, Pa., $500 for court.

Abram S. Stauffer, Palmyra, Pa., $4,500 for court.

Ira C. Webster, Newark, N. J., $1,000 for further hearing.

Oscar Gustavson, Jersey City, N. J., $1,500 for further hearing.

S. Joseph Silverman, Pittsburg, Pa., $2,500 for court.

Lewis Conrad, Conrad Lotz and William Bingham, officers of the Correspondence Institute of America, at Scranton, $1,000 each for further hearing. This organization has no connection with the International Correspondence Schools.

The government alleges that the Chain Shoe Stores Syndicate sold stock through fraudulent representations.

Abram G. Stauffer, Oscar A. Stauffer and Abram S. Stauffer, prominent residents of Palmyra, Lebanon county, are said to have obtained thousands of dollars and to have employed 25 clerks and stenographers at their office in Palmyra, where they own handsome homes. Their operations are said to have been in several States. The Stauffers are charged with having been selling instruments to locate hidden wealth, one of the articles being the "Spanish needle." They were sold at from $10 to $15 each and about 1,500 are alleged to have been sold in the last year. Charges of sale of obscene literature through the mails have also been made. The first two men are said to have been doing business under the names of Prospectors and Miners' Agency, Hall Co., Electric Motor Company, Diamond Publishing Company, Gem Novelty Company, Franklin Drug Company, Smith Remedy Company and Stauffer & Co. Abram S. Stauffer is said to have been interested in a concern known as the Miners' Supply Company.

Another Military Cable.

Seattle, Wash. (Special).—The laying of another military cable between Seattle and Alaska at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 is being considered by the War Department, according to information received Friday. The present cable is inadequate to handle the business. The projected new cable is to run direct from Seattle to Cordova, a distance of 1,884 miles.

Whole College Arrested.

Gainesville, Ga. (Special).—The entire student body of the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, was arrested, following the bursting of the big Government cannon in the barracks Friday morning, resulting in the wrecking of the barracks. It is said that the cannon was loaded with 50 pounds of giant powder, with a 50-foot fuse attached. The college is under $6,000 bond to the Government as a guarantee for security of the cannon.

WITH CONGRESS

Urgent Deficiency Bill.

The Urgent Deficiency Appropriation Bill, carrying $850,000 needed for the current fiscal year, was reported to the House by the Appropriations Committee. Among the items are $100,000 for continuing the investigation of the mineral resources in Alaska, $500,000 to continue drydock work at the New York Navy Yard, $17,500 for the salaries of the recently appointed five additional judges for the half-year beginning January 1 next, at $7,000 per annum each, together with $1,500 per annum expense allowance for each additional judge in connection with their service on the United States Court of Commerce, and $36,000 for the expenses of the court during its first six months of existence, beginning January 1.

Both Want Exposition.

Advocates of New Orleans and of San Francisco for the exposition of 1915 to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal were given a hearing before the House Committee on Rules. Governor Gillette, Representative Kahn, former Representative Theodore A. Bell, and Josph H. Scott, of Los Angeles, spoke for California, urging early action to permit the institution of the preliminary work, appointment of foreign commissfoners and making of representations to state legislatures.

Representatives Estopinal and Pujo, of Louisiana, spoke for New Orleans, detailing that city's claims.

For Reappointment Of Congress.

Three joint resolutions were proposed providing for amendments to the Federal Constitution by abrogating that part prohibiting an export tax relating to House procedure, and providing for reapportionment of Congress so as to make the House consist of 400 members. Representative Foelker, of New York, fathered all three.

House Passes Pension Bill.

The 18 pension agencies throughout the country will be centralized in one agency if the Senate agrees to the Pension Appropriation bill as passed by the House of Representatives. Attempts have been made for many years to have these offices abolished, but without success, although last year the House conferees bill "fought to the last ditch," as it was expressed by Representative Kaifer, to have the Senate conferees agree to the abolishmnt of the agencies.

The bill, as passed by the House, carries $153,614,000, $74,000 less than was recommended in the bill as presented.

$6,000 Salary Too Small.

"I could not save anything out of a salary of $6,000 a year and I have a family," said Librarian of Congress Herbert Putnam, in arguing before the House Committee on Appropriations for an increase of his salary from $6,000 to $7,500.

Mr. Putnam failed in his effort. He pointed out that he had no other source of income, and, while admitting that the Librarian of Congress does not have to entertain largely, he declared he ought to be able to meet certain social obligations incurred because of his official position.

For Memorial To Lincoln.

A national memorial to Abraham Lincoln to be erected in Washington at a cost of $2,000,000 is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Cullom, of Illinois. The bill names a permanent commission to be composed of President Taft, Senators Wetmore, of Rhode Island, and Money, of Mississippi; Representatives McCall, of Massachusetts, and Champ Clark, of Missouri. The sum of $100,000 is to be immediately available under the bill.

More For U. S. Judges.

To increase salaries of Supreme Court Justices $5,000 and to increase proportionately the compensation of all Federal judges is the purpose of a bill introduced by Senator Depew, of New York.

The salary of the Chief Justice is fixed by the bill at $18,000; and those of associate justices of that court at $17,500. These salaries are now respectively $13,000 and $12,500. It is proposed to increase circuit judges' salaries from $7,000 to $10,000; and Federal district judges from $6,000 to $9,000.

Ink For Communion Wine.

Mount Sterling, Ky. (Special).—Many members of the Pleasant Valley Christian Church were made ill Sunday as the result of some unknown persons substituting indelible ink for the communion wine, which was kept in the church. The officers of the church passed the supposed wine at communion before it was found that the change had been made.

Laughed Himself To Death.

Lacrosse, Wis. (Special).—Laughing heartily at the joke of a friend, Albert Sommers, 58 years old, gasped and sank to the ground. He died a few hours later. Physicians are of the opinion that the strain of laughing induced a stroke of paralysis.

At present the 2,500,000 population of Manhattan is increased to 3,000,000 during business hours.

SWOOP DOWN ON STOCK COMPANY

Government Agents Raid a Chicago Concern.

GOING AFTER THE 26 BRANCHES.

Secret Service Men Confiscate Records and Papers Of Capital Investment Company — Get-Rich-Quick Firm Did a Business Of $10,000,000 Annually—Made $600,000 In One Day On a Deal—Got Ahead Of Ticker.

Chicago (Special).—Federal agents are prepared to swoop down upon 26 branches of the Capital Investment Company scattered through eight Middle Western States. Following the sensational raid on the main offices and four branches of this company in Chicago and branches in Joliet and Aurora, Ill., Thursday this roundup will mark one of the most extensive movements in the history of the government's war against alleged get-rich-quick concerns. Immediate action, it is said, will be taken in the following cities:

Milwaukee, Racine and Green Bay, Wis.; Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Lansing, Mich.; Davenport and Muscatine, Iowa; Rockford, Elkin, Monmouth, Galesburg, East St. Louis, Belvidere and Dekalb, Ill.; Indianapolis, Anderson, Kokomo, Muncie and Lafayette, Ind.; Louisville, Ky., and Cincinnati, O., and St. Louis, Mo.

Made $10,000,000 a Year.

According to agents of the Department of Justice, the Capital Investment Company controlled 5,000 miles of leased wires to supply these branches with news of the New York stock market, and was doing a business of more than $10,000,000 annually. It is said that on one 10-point break in the market the concern netted $600,000 in a single day.

The government alleges that the firm dealt with its customers on a basis of "Heads I win; tails you lose." In this connection Federal agents say that the company controlled two fast New York wires which were beating the "ticker" with regular market quotations by from three to five minutes. With this advance information the men in charge of the company's offices would decide if orders would be filled. The government charges that the concern bought no stocks outright, but took a commission on all orders and then played the "longs" against the "shorts."

Although operated at a loss six months in the year, because of its extended wire service and many branches, the concern is said to have been a big payer at the end of the year. It has recently been dealing heavily in cotton.

Successor To Hammond Co.

This concern is a successor to the Hammond Elevator Company, which did a big bucket shop business for a number of years. The principal offices of the elevator company were in Hammond, Ind., until the operation of such a concern in that State was made a felony. The Hammond Elevator Company was then dissolved and the Capital Investment Company was organized under the laws of Illinois.

Among the warrants that have been served in connection with the case are those for Sidmon McHie, and William R. Holligan, of New York, and William J. Lloyd, district traffic manager for the Western Union Telegraph Company in Chicago. It is expected that 17 more arrests will be made here.

MAYOR KILLED AT FIRE.

Embers Of One Blaze Cause Another.

La Grange, Ky. (Special).—Fire which broke out from the smouldering embers of the blaze, which did $30,000 damage Tuesday night, cost the life of Mayor Collis McDowell.

Mayor McDowell was killed by a falling chimney while directing the fire against the flames. Charles and Alfred Fisher fell through a floor and were perhaps fatally injured. The loss is $25,000.

BALLINGER FOE ACQUITTED.

Louis R. Glavis Was Accused Of Starting Forest Fire.

Golden Gate, Wash. (Special).—Louis R. Glavis, principal witness in the Pinchot-Ballinger hearing was acquitted here on the charge of having started a forest fire. The jury was out twenty minutes.

The evidence showed that Glavis had nothing to do with a big forest fire near White Salmon, alleged to have been caused by a small fire started on his own land.

KILLED LIGHTING LAMP.

Farmhouse Burned and Two Children May Die.

Jamestown, N. Y. (Special).—The farmhouse of Amel Nelson, of Russell, Pa., was destroyed by fire. Nelson's five-year-old daughter was cremated and two other children, aged two and three years, respectively, were seriously, and it is feared, fatally burned.

The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil lamp, which the daughter was lighting.

BIG FUND TO END WAR

Mr. Carnegie Gives $11,500,000 to Promote Peace.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—President Taft has consented to become honorary president of the $10,000,000 International Peace Foundation, which was presented to a board of 20 trustees composed of men of international reputation by Andrew Carnegie.

The gift is in the form of $10,000,000 in 5 per cent. first mortgage bonds which have a market value of $11,500,000.

The transfer was made at a meeting in the rooms of the Carnegie Research Foundation. The trustees chose Senator Elihu Root, of New York, as their president. Senator Root is also permanent representative of the United States at The Hague Tribunal. The purpose of the foundation is the abolition of war.

His Plan World-Wide.

While Mr. Carnegie refused to disclose his entire plan, it is known that he expects to see a world-wide organization which will be created by this vast gift.

The distribution of $500,000 a year which the $10,000,000 endowment will yield, is to be left entirely in the hands of the trustees. It is considered possible that the trustees will cooperate with Secretary of State Knox to promote the proposed peace court.

While Carnegie's gift was unexpected, it caused no great surprise among the promoters of the world peace movement in Washington, as in recent years he has shown an increasing interest in the work. It is known that he has been putting aside other activity to devote himself almost wholly to the cause.

Carnegie's Purpose.

In the trust deed Mr. Carnegie says:

"Although we no longer eat our fellowmen nor sack cities, killing their inhabitants, we still kill each other in war like barbarians. Only wild beasts are excusable for doing that in this, the twentieth century of the Christian era, for the crime of war is inherent, since it decides not in favor of the right, but always of the strong. The nation is criminal which refuses arbitration and deceives its adversary, which knows nothing of righteous judgment."

REBELS WIN IN MEXICO.

Federal Troops Reported Defeated In Battle At Minaca.

El Paso, Texas (Special).—Federal troops were completely overthrown in an engagement lasting several hours at La Junta, a small town near Minaca, on the Mexican Northwestern and Orient railroads, according to information received by railroad officials here.

At 4.30 P. M., the remnant of the Federal troops, numbering 150, surrendered their arms and ammunition and were allowed to depart in the direction of Chihuahua.

As telegraph wires were cut in many places, no details of the battle can be secured. A telephone wire running north through the mountains brought the news to the Juarez branch of the Mexican Northwestern that the Federals wereoverwhelmingly defeated and that the survivors had surrendered.

RICHES TO MOTHER CHURCH.

Mrs. Eddy's Will Shows Estate May Reach $2,000,000.

Concord, N. H. (Special).—Gen. Henry M. Baker, executor of the estate of Mary Baker G. Eddy, filed her will in the probate court in this city Wednesday afternoon, Judge Charles R. Corning presiding.

Under the terms of the will, the mother church at Boston is to get the bulk of Mrs. Eddy's enormous fortune. This church, in addition to special bequests aggregating $150,000, is also made the residuary legatee.

There is every reason to believe that the value of Mrs. Eddy's estate has been underestimatd and that it will reach, if it does not exceed, $2,000,000.

LE BLANC GIRL ACQUITTED.

Takes Hour and Half For the Jurors To Agree.

East Cambridge, Mass. (Special).—After deliberating an hour and thirty minutes the jury, which for the last 10 days has been sitting in the case of Hattie Le Blanc, the 17-year-old French-Canadian girl, accused of the murder of Clarence F. Glover, of Waltham, Wednesday morning returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The courtroom was crowded, as it has been since the beginning of the trial, and the spectators cheered loudly when the foreman of the jury made known its verdict.

Hens Worth $22,000.

Philadelphia (Special).—Winner over all others of her breed, Lady Washington, a raven black Orpington hen, worth $12,000, has only one of her kind as a rival—her own daughter. Her offspring is worth $10,000. Whenever either chooses to do the commonplace thing of laying an egg that egg is worth $25. Both chickens were on exhibition at the Fifth Annual Poultry Show in this city.

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

State To Supervise Orchards.

State Zoologist Surface announced that, with the conclusion of the orchard demonstrations for the control of fruit tree pests last Saturday, the demonstrators would undertake the supervision of about 1,000 orchards which have been placed under the care of the State. The list of orchards so put within the control of the State authorities is the largest ever known and includes every county. The supervision of orchards will include inspections and advice and assistance to farmers and fruit growers for the extermination of San Jose scale and other pests, which cost the State an annual loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to Dr. Surface's estimates. Where possible preventive measures will be taken to show owners how to care for trees. It is proposed to resume the demonstrations in orchards of the State in February or March and 300 orchards are listed to be visited before the buds burst. This work has been in progress several years and has resulted in marked success in holding down damage from pests in many sections of the State. Numerous fruit exhibits from farms where State methods have been followed will be shown here next month during the meeting of the State Horticultural Association.

Answer League's Call.

Eight of the third class cities of Pennsylvania have given notice that they will be represented at the conference of the third class City League, in this city, December 30, when legislation to be presented to the next General Assembly will be discussed. York will send 6 representatives, including the Mayor; New Castle 5, Bradford 3, McKeesport 3, Wilkes-Barre 3, Easton 3, Allentown 1, the Mayor of the city, and Harrisburg 9. It is expected that other cities will announce their delegations this week. The delegates will be entertained by a committee of Harrisburg Councils. Among the important matters to be presented will be bills relative to reduction of size of Councils, and it is possible that some effort will be made to have the commission form of government, or a single chamber of councils recommended. Taxation of real estate of public utility companies, underground wires, personal notice in damage suits, and other subjects will be discussed and bills drafted for submission to the Legislature.

Governor Writes Message.

Governor Stuart is devoting himself to his message, which he expects to have ready a week or more in advance of the assembling of the Legislature. The message will not only contain a summary of the work of departments, with recommendations, but also one of the Governor's financial statements, showing the exact condition of the finances and what may be expected in the way of revenue.

Charters Granted.

The following Philadelphia charters were issued: Ontario Land Company, capital $100,000; Seaboard Coal and Coke Company, capital $5,000; New Branson Knitting Company, capital $10,000; Pearson & Ludacher Company, capital $100,000; Carlton Company, capital $10,000; Samuel R. Sharp Company, capital $20,000.

State Scribes To Talk Shop.

The Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania State Editorial Association changed the date of the annual meeting in this city from January 17 and 18 to January 24 and 25. It is planned to have five papers presented on topics relative to newspaper work and to conclude with a banquet at which men of national and State prominence will be present.

Milk Inspection.

The city's campaign for milk inspection has ended in an ordinance for inspection being approved by Mayor E. S. Meals. The Mayor signed the bill Wednesday and an inspector will be named shortly.

Complains Of P. R. T. Cars.

Stockton W. Jones has made a complaint to the State Railroad Commission that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's Doylestown line cars are poorly heated and uncomfortable.

The French government is seriously considering a plan to explore Algiers and the Soudan by means of aeroplanes, for the purpose of ascertaining the most desirable locations for airship stations.

The foreign trade of the United Kingdom showed still further increases in both imports and exports during the month of August. Exports of British merchandise aggregated $188,000,000, an increase of $32,000,000 over August, 1909. Imports aggregating $253,000,000 were $18,000,000 higher.

In the foothills of Mount Tacana, a Guatemalan volcano, there is an almost inexhaustive supply of sulphur in huge blocks, which is taken out from time to time by Indians.

CORRECT ILL-SHAPED TREES

Method Explained and Illustrated of Overcoming Crotched Head on Walnut Tree.

In a recent issue a correspondent inquired how best to overcome a divided or crotched head on an English walnut tree. The query was well answered by Mr. Van Deman, but I venture to add a suggestion also, as I have been so well pleased with my plan of treating forked trees just such as described, writes F. H. Ballou, of the Ohio Experiment Station in Rural New Yorker. The outline drawings will almost explain themselves. No. 1 shows the objectionable form of tree. Instead of cutting off one division closely and depending alone on nature to straighten out the unsightly angle left (which would be done in time), the least desirable branch is cut off at a distance of six or eight inches above the crotch. The stub left is utilized as a post or anchor by drawing it and the remaining branch together to the extent that the chosen branch assumes a perpendicular position. A strong, soft twine or strip of strong cloth is used to tie the two parts at the proper distance from each other to maintain the upright position of the branch that is to form the continuance of the trunk. This work may be done in late winter or early spring—any time before growth begins. The stub left should not be allowed to produce any further growth of new shoots. It will remain as it is until its mission of support is accomplished, when it should be removed as designed in No. 3. All the strength of the tree being thrown into the upright branch remaining will cause this branch to make a very rapid growth, and the laterals springing out from its buds may be trained into a symmetrical head at any desired height from the ground. After the first season's growth there will be no need of leaving the anchor on the tree, for it will remain rigidly in the position in which it was at first tied. The writer has treated not only walnut trees, but various other shade trees in this manner, and uniformly with best results.

DESTROY INSECTS IN WINTER

Careful Examination of Trees Will Often Bring to Light Many Cocoons in Secret Places.

There are several kinds of insects that spend the winter on the fruit tree, either in the egg, larval or pupal state, and while the orchard is young good work can be done at destroying them. It does not not require much time to look over a tree as long as the inspection can be made from the ground, says Farmer's Review. On large trees, however, such a course is impracticable.

One species of canker worm passes the winter in the egg. Clusters of these eggs are to be found on limbs and twigs from which they can readily be removed. As these clusters contain a hundred or more eggs each it is evident that much trouble for the future can be saved by destroying them.

The eggs of tent caterpillars are laid in clusters by the moth in July and remain till the following spring. Covered with a kind of varnish, they are impervious to the storms of winter. They should be removed whenever found, thereby saving the tree from feeding two or three hundred hungry caterpillers for each nest.

Leaf crumplers make themselves so conspicuous that a word of warning is scarcely necessary. The larvae tie together leaves and make nests in which they hibernate. In the spring they come forth and attack both leaf and blossom, continuing till July when they pupate. Of course these nests should be gathered and destroyed.

A careful examination of trees will often bring to light many cocoons in branches, the codling moth being one. Birds take care of many, the red-headed woodpecker being especially active, who finds the choice morsel even when hidden beneath a scale of bark. The work done by birds in the winter has never received the credit it should.

The San Jose scale is not the only one of its kind, though by far the worst. There are several kinds of scale lice, and the winter is a favorable time to look for them on small tress though treatment comes later.

Kieffer Pears.

Kieffer pears, though apparently late in coloring, ripen prematurely after being picked. Prices have ranged in localities where there were no apples from 60 cents to $1.25 per bushel for firsts, and many growers averaged $309 per acre net.

BOX TO PROTECT FLOWERS

Sponge Draws the Water Up to Soil and Gives Plant Nourishment of Life.

Florists generally are finding an increased interest taken in the self-watering flower box which has been on the market only a short time, says Popular Mechanics. The box was designed especially for those who desire flowers, and water them today but forget them tomorrow. A reservoir in the bottom of the box holds a sufficient quantity of water to supply the plant for several days, and a sponge draws the water up to the soil and gives the plant the nourishment of life despite the careless owner's neglect.

LOCO WEED AND ITS DISEASE

Where Cattle Eat It They Act Crazy—One Remedy Is Keep All Stock Away From It.

One of the most troublesome weeds of the West is the purple loco or rattle-weed. When horses, cattle or sheep get the habit of eating this weed they contract what is called loco disease, says Farm and Home. The easiest way to describe their actions is to say they act a if they were crazy.

About the only remedy is to keep the stock away from pastures where this weed exists. No successful medicinal treatment has been dicovered. The illutration herewith shows what the weed looks like, the blossom being purple.

Purple Loco or Rattleweed.

The Sand Pear.

The sand pear is the only pear that is practically free from blight. It is a very rapid and continuous grower. It is a prolific bearer and requires less attention and will stand more abuse than any other fruit tree known.

The sand pear comes into bearing at an early age, and at ten years old ordinary trees will yield from ten to twenty bushels of pears. The trees usually begin to bear at five years of age. The sixth year each tree will net 25 cents, the seventh year 50 cents and the eighth year $1, the ninth year $2 and the tenth year $4 per tree. By planting 24 feet apart 75 trees can be set to the acre. This would give a net return of $300 an acre the tenth year, which would be equal to a $5,000 investment at 6 per cent.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

All dead trees and fallen ones should be removed and cut up for winter firewood.

Mulch blackberries and rapberries that have been set this fall, with a heavy covering of manure.

When watering plants do not force the water against the plant; let it fall in the form of a shower.

All damaged limbs should be cut out because they are likely to injure others while swaying in the winds.

A thick set hedge in the north west side of the exposed orchard will very often save the trees from permanent injury.

If the narcissus is grown in soil, set away in the dark until it starts growth. If in water treat as the sacred lily.

It is a serious mistake to set trees too deeply, because the roots are more apt to rot than if planted reasonably near the surface.

Teach your boys the value of fruit. Get them interested, give them a few trees and vines for their own. It will prove a wonderful tie to the farm.

Applying manure to the orchard and berry patches in winter not only supplies fertilizing elements, but the manure itself acts as a mulch to conserve moisture and regulate freezing and thawing.

If you should fail to protect your trees from the mice this winter and they should girdle the trees it does not mean that they are killed. If they are girdled severely, saw off below the girdle and graft.

STATE NEWS.

Media.—Miss Amanda Carey, a woman well along in years, bled to death at her home here. She was working in the kitchen of her home and apparently struck her leg against the door of the stove. An artery was broken, but she walked across the room to a chair, where she sat down and tried to stem the flow of blood. A trail of blood was left from the stove to the chair. She gave a call and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elwood Carey, arose from bed and came downstairs. Miss Carey tried to talk to her, but her lips quivered and she could not speak. Dr. Trimble Pratt was summoned, but when he reached the house Miss Carey was dead.

Ebensburg.—John R. Edwards, of Johnstown, who shot and killed his wife last June, appeared in court here and pleaded guilty. Testimony was taken so Judge O'Connor could fix the degree of guilt which will be either first or second degree murder. The Court's decision will be made known January 17. Edwards parted from his wife in May. He went to his home June 21 and killed her. In an effort to induce the Court to fix the crime at second degree murder, Edwards' attorneys pleaded that he was under the influence of liquor when he committed the act.

Pittsburg.—Helen Boyle, who is serving a 25-year term in the Western Penitentiary here for her connection with the kidnapping of Willie Whitla, will ask the Pennsylvania Pardon Board to release her from further confinement. Mrs. Boyle was convicted for a crime committed in Ohio, she having taken care of the stolen boy at her apartment in Cleveland while the search was on. The claim of her attorneys for pardon is based on this fact.

Doylestown.—Mrs. Maggie Byers, the aged woman who was convicted in November, 1909, of setting fire to the barn on the Robert Beatty farm and sentenced to not less than two and a half or more than ten years in the Eastern Penitentiary, will be free in a few days, as the Superior Court has ordered her discharge.

York.—Upon a plea of guilty to a charge of embezzlement, Harry Pierpont, a young bank clerk and expert accountant, was sentenced to the Eastern Penitentiary for a term of not less than six months nor more than two years. Pierpont, while cashier of the Pullman Motor Car Company, took $500.

Pottsville.—Having declared that she had a premonition that she had attended her last service, Miss Annie Moyer, of Orwigsburg, aged 35 years, a devout member of the Reformed Church, dropped dead midway between the church and her home. She had attended a public preaching service.

Pittsburg.—H. W. McMaster and F. H. Skelding, receivers of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Railroad, were granted permission in the United States District Court to spend $2,000,000 for gondolas to be used in the lake coal carrying traffic. It is said that bids will be asked at once and the orders placed as soon as possible. The money will buy 2000 cars

Bristol.—By the discovery of an extensive stratum of fine white sand on the old Simons farm, the Pennsylvania Railroad has saved itself one dollar per yard in the construction of the new elevated line through here. When the work began the steam shovels unearthed the layer of sand.

Reading.—Robert Forricey, aged 56, a puddler, plead guilty before Judge Endich to setaling a satchel containing $5,000 worth of bonds and other valuables from a passenger train on the Reading Road a month ago. The grip was later recovered. He was given a term of one year in jail.

Bristol.—Borough Council authorized the borough solicitor to advertise for bids for the erection of a municipal water works and the construction of a sewerage system. Thus, after several years of legislation and litigation, the borough is to own and maintain these two important utilities.

Beaver.—While standing on a bank watching a companion digging for a rabbit near his home, Wilber Bevington, aged 16, slipped and fell. The gun he carried was discharged and the shot entered his neck. He died almost instantly.

Ashland.—Englebert Loper, a carpenter, aged 48 years, fell down a stairway at a new building here and received injuries from which he died an hour later at the Miners' Hospital In the fall his head came in contact with a railing, crushing his skull.

Scranton. — Three Polanders, miner and laborers in Cayuga mine, North Scranton, while eating their dinner were caught by a fall of roof coal and killed. Another was seriously injured.

Economy Expert.

An expert in municipal economies will be secured for Harrisburg, the Board of Trade having agreed to bring such a man to this city to study its problems. Fire departments and other matters will come up.

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head!

VERACITY OF THE BIBLE

After a Visit to the Holy Land Even a Skeptic Must Be Convinced.

One thing cannot fail to impress every visitor to Bethlehem, and, indeed, to the Holy Land generally, who is imbued with true Christian faith and a proper sense of the sanctity of the location and of the events that have transpired there, and that is the more than remarkable correspondence between the things and places shown us today as having been associated with the life and work of the Saviour and other events that enter into the structure of our religious faith and the descriptions and accounts of them, as furnished us in the pages of the Holy Scriptures. They agree with them in every respect and it is impossible, after carefully considering and comparing them, to doubt their identity, so exactly are they in accord with the Bible narrative.

The work in the fields, the arrangement of the buildings, the very articles of diet and clothing of ancient days are plainly recognizable in the doings and surroundings of today. Indeed, where modern methods have not become obtrusive the manners and customs of the people remain much the same as in the days of the presence on earth of the Saviour. Between the descriptions given in the Bible of localities, climatic and geographical conditions, distances, etc., of these times and those of today there is hardly any discrepancy. even a skeptic, considering this remarkable accord of circumstances with the Biblical narrative, cannot but be convinced of its veracity; to the believer it comes as a wonderful conviction, a satisfactory corroboration or encouragement to see things as those who described them so graphically saw them so long ago.—Columbian Magazine.

Without Malice.

"What have you done?" exclaimed Mrs. Cumrox, as she flourished a letter at him.

"Has that anything to do with the correspondence I tried to help you with?"

"It has. It's an indignant protest. I told you to address that distinguished pianist as 'Herr Professor.'"

"And I did so."

"Yes. But you wrote it 'Hair Professor!'"

Ill-Mannered Chicken.

Little Robert, 3 years of age, went with his grandmother to the chicken park to see her feed the chickens. When the little ones jumped upon the water dish and dipped their bills into the water, he cried: "Oh, grandmother, they are putting their feet on the table."

His Talent.

"Is he a great artist?"

"No."

"But he gets good prices for his stuff."

"Yes. He's a great salesman."

Some men are always looking for a chance to earn money, and some are satisfied if they merely get it.

WONDERED WHY.
Found the Answer Was "Coffee."

Many pale, sickly persons wonder for years why they have to suffer so, and eventually discover that the drug—caffeine—in coffee is the main cause of the trouble.

"I was always very fond of coffee and drank it every day. I never had much flesh and often wondered why I was always so pale, thin and weak.

"About five years ago my health completely broke down and I was confined to my bed. My stomach was in such condition that I could hardly take sufficient nourishment to sustain life.

"During this time I was drinking coffee, didn't think I could do without it.

"After awhile I came to the conclusion that coffee was hurting me, and decided to give it up and try Postum. I didn't like the taste of it at first, but when it was made right—boiled until dark and rich—I soon became fond of it.

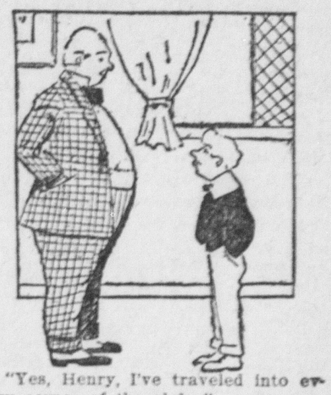
"In one week I began to feel better. I could eat more and sleep better. My sick headaches were less frequent, and within five months I looked and felt like a new being, headache spells entirely gone.

"My health continued to improve and today I am well and strong, weigh 148 pounds. I attribute my present health to the life-giving qualities of Postum."

Read "The Road to Wellville." in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ACCURACY



"Yes, Henry, I've traveled into every corner of the globe."

"The globe is a spherical body, uncle. Therefore it has no corners!"—Chips.

A Tripe Famine.

"I want to get two pounds of tripe," said the lady, entering the shop.

"Sorry, ma'am," replied the keeper, "but we haven't any tripe today."

"No tripe? Why, it's in season."

"No, ma'am, there's no tripe being shot just now."

"No tripe being shot! Why, what are you talking about?"

"I—I should say, ma'am, that the fisheries commission won't allow tripe to be caught now."

"Are you crazy, man? I don't want fish! I want tripe."

"Well, what in thunder is tripe, ma'am?"

"Why—why, I don't know just what it is, but if you haven't got any I'll try some other place."

Kept Umbrella Thirty Years.

A faithful old umbrella which has shielded the family of Dr. James A. Mullican of Greenwood avenue from the storms of 30 years, was stolen on Sunday. During the rain on that day the physician lent the umbrella to E. A. Seck, and while the latter was in a store some one stole it.

"The umbrella belonged to my father and has been in the family for more than thirty years," said Doctor Mullican the other night. "It has been covered several times.

"To persons who are unable to keep the same umbrella for more than thirty days this may seem incredible, but it is true," concluded Doctor Mullican with a smile.—Chicago Tribune.

TO DRIVE OUT MALARIA AND BUILD UP THE SYSTEM
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking. The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out the malaria and the Iron builds up the system. Sold by all dealers for 30 years. Price 50 cents.

There's an irony in nature that is almost sure to bring those who prescribe for the race around to taking their own medicine.

For COLDS and GRIP
Hicks' CAPUDINE is the best remedy—relieves the aching and feverishness—cures the Cold and restores normal conditions. It's liquid—effects immediatly. 10c., 25c., and 50c. At drug stores.

Dr. H. F. Bitner was elected a school director to take the place of G. W. Bushman, deceased.

Guy W. Jacobs will be home from York this week. It will be his first visit here since accepting a position in that place.

Miss Mary Potter, west of Centre Hall, is at the Bellefonte hospital where she is receiving treatment for a slight ailment.

Tuesday morning Mrs. S. W. Smith went to Jersey Shore where she will be the guest of her father, W. H. Kuhn, over Christmas.

The Modern Woodmen of America will hold a special meeting in Centre Hall, Thursday, December 29, for the purpose of adopting applicants.

Miss Flora Love was at the home of Dr. W. H. Schuyler during the greater part of the past two weeks. She will return again in a few days.

For all of next week the Corral Comedy Company will be in Bellefonte at the Garman opera house. Why not make up sledding parties and spend the evening there instead of at a private house?

Mrs. A. B. Homan, of Altoona, and Mrs. C. C. Homan, of Toledo, Ohio, are the guests of Mrs. Emma Homan, in Centre Hall. They came Saturday. On account of lack of time their husbands will not be able to spend Christmas with their mother, as is their custom.

A petition is being circulated to vacate what is termed the "old road" across Nittany Mountain. This road branches from the Brush Valley road at the Heckman farm, west of Centre Hall, and intersects the Gregg road also branching from the Brush Valley road, at the Gregg farms. The road in question is about a mile and a half in length.

J. E. Wagner, of Bellefonte; B. I. Meyers, of Philipsburg, and Miss Lulu B. Smith, of State College, have been named by State Superintendent Schaeffer the examining board in Centre county for permanent teachers certificates. This grade of certificate is becoming much sought after, owing to the increased salary the holder commands. The board is well selected, each of the three being recognized as a leader in the profession. The appointment holds for three years.

The McMurray heirs—Messrs. James and Mitchell McMurray, Mrs. Brill and Miss Kate McMurray—are arranging to sell the large farm belonging to them, east of Centre Hall, and tenanted by W. A. Carson. Tuesday ex-Prothonotary L. A. Schaeffer and Surveyor J. H. Wetzel, of Bellefonte, were on the farm and surveyed it. Samuel Rachau, and several others are dickering for a portion of the farm, it being the intention of the heirs named to give them an opportunity to buy. The farm contains considerably over two hundred acres, and after several parcels have been sold off there will yet remain a farm of a size that will attract buyers more readily than it will in its present shape.

After a stay of a little over two years in London, England, Rufus Strohm arrived in Centre Hall on Saturday. His principal reason for coming to the states at this time was to visit his father, ex-Commissioner James B. Strohm and be with him and the family over the Christmas season. Mr. Strohm is one of several who have charge of the foreign office of the International Correspondence School, of Scranton. The venture in England was an entirely new one until this particular branch was opened in London. The success has been remarkable. Much of the two years was devoted to revision of text books to make them adapted to English methods, but the school is now well established with an enrollment of an average of fifteen hundred students per month. Mr. Strohm will remain here until shortly after the opening of the new year, when he will return to England and join his wife, who, by the way, just arrived there about six weeks ago.

Burkholder-Strohm.

A very quiet wedding took place at 4:30 o'clock, on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Strohm, when their second daughter, Margaretta, was united in marriage to Ammon Roy Burkholder, of Phillipsburg, New Jersey, youngest son of Mrs. Mary Burkholder, of Centre Hill. The bride was gowned in white batiste and carried a bouquet of white roses, while the groom wore a sack suit of dark blue serge. The young couple were unattended, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Lantz, of Spring Mills. The guests included only a few of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

The groom is engaged in railroading in Phillipsburg, New Jersey, and is a young man of splendid qualities and best of habits. The bride is an accomplished young lady, devoted to her home, and spends much time in reading the best literature. The young couple will be at home in Phillipsburg after April 1st.

Go To Texas.

As was announced, an excursion car left for Texas from Coburn on Monday afternoon. The party will go to Houston, and from there to Stowell. A short distance from the latter place most of those named below have made investments. The party consisted of the following:

Mr. and Mrs J. Victor Brungart and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Brungart and daughter, of Smullton; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Korman and five children, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brungart and seven children, W. H. Gilbert, Harry Walker, Wolfs Store; Washington Troutman, Loganton; I. A. Shroyer, Jacob Gephart, Harry Douty, Rebersburg; Cyrus Royer, George Smith, Green Burr; William Douty, Mifflinburg; Gerney Roop, Millheim.

A. H. Gilbert, wife and family were not able to go along with the party owing to a sick son, but they will follow in a few days.

Zimmerman-Whitmer.

At the Lutheran parsonage in Boalsburg on Thursday, December 15th, Roy F. Zimmerman and Miss Alka N. Whitmer were united in the bonds of holy wedlock by Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, pastor of the Lutheran church.

Mr. Zimmerman is a son of Commissioner and Mrs. H. E. Zimmerman, of Bellefonte, and his bride a daughter of John B. Whitmer, of near Pine Grove Mills.

After a short wedding trip the newly married couple will be at home on the farm belonging to the groom's father just below McBride's Gap, where they will be ready to entertain their many friends in farmer's royal style. Congratulations and best wishes.

Williamsport Commercial College.

We want more young people to take bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting. This is the school which helps young men and women. Business men want our graduates. Sixty-two calls received for office help during the fall term Largest Commercial school in Central Pennsylvania. Winter trem begins January 3. Catalogue and trial lessons free.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

Harris Township

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey, of College township, spent Sunday at the S. H. Bailey home west of Boalsburg.

C. D. Moore spent a week with his nephew, Harry Gilmen and family, near Rebersburg.

Mrs. E. W. Sweeney enjoyed a few days of last week with friends at Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hoy, of Benner township, were the guests at the W. G. Mothersbaugh home Wednesday of last week.

The schools are all closed this week. The teachers are attending the teachers' institute and the pupils are having a fine time skating and coasting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrison attend the funeral of the former's brother, John Harrison, at Bellefonte, on Saturday.

Charles Kuhn has the blue ribbon for the heaviest porker in this place, having killed a hog that dressed 563 pounds.

The teachers of the Boalsburg grammar and primary schools treated their scholars with candy, popcorn, nuts, and oranges on Friday afternoon, and the pupils had some pleasant Christmas surprises for their teachers.

All the children of Harris township, Oak Hall and the Branch, from the age of four to twelve are invited to meet Santa Claus at the Theodore Boal home, Monday forenoon, of next week.

Mrs. Henrietta Kline, of Bellefonte, visited at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. H. S. Harro, from Thursday until Tuesday. Lee Wian, of Tyrone, is also spending some time at the Harro home.

The fine sleighing in this locality helped Santa Claus on his way, so that he arrived here on Monday, and stopped at the home of Elmer Ishler, where he left a lively little dolly for a Christmas gift.

Miss Caroline Hoy, of Bellefonte, is at present in the Allentown hospital, where she had a tumor removed. Miss Hoy is a kindergarten teacher, and was teaching at Kutztown. Her relatives and friends in this place, as well as in other parts of the county, hope for her speedy recovery.

Miss Helen Woods has been seriously ill with typhoid fever in the hospital at Bisbee, Arizona. Miss Ella Rhone is caring for her. At this writing she is some better. Both ladies are trained nurses, and were formerly from Boalsburg.

Mrs. Reuben Stuart, of Bellevue, is enjoying a ten days visit with her parents, and other relatives and associates in this place. Mr. Stuart expects to spend Christmas here, and the Tuesday following they will return to their home.

At a meeting of Tussey Rebekah Lodge, No. 66, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday evening, December 14th, the following officers were installed by District Deputy President, Mrs. Mollie Hoy, of Bellefonte:

LOCALS.

Candies, the purest and best—Kreamer & Son.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Tate, on Nittany Mountain.

W. H. Meyer killed two hogs on Tuesday that dressed 491 and 461 pounds respectively.

Lock Haven, under the new census, has a population of 7,772, an increase over ten years ago of 562.

Shoes, a very fine assortment for men, ladies, and misses, also for the children—Kreamer & Son.

Mrs. Alfred Durst is contemplating a trip to Tanneytown, Maryland, to visit her daughter, Mrs. David Wolf.

A grandchild of William Ishler, of Colyer, aged about three years, just recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Chickenpox have reached Centre Hall and Bellefonte, and both places would be just as well off without their presence.

A good many farmers will have the pleasure of husking two crops of corn in 1911—one in the spring, the other in the fall.

Miss Eloise Schuyler will spend her Christmas vacation at Centre Hall. She expects to reach here from Cape May on Saturday.

Testimony favoring the granting of a liquor license in Centre Hall was given yesterday (Wednesday) in Bellefonte, before Attorney Furst.

This (Thursday) morning, B. H. Arney started for Niagara Falls, where he will spend a short time with his son, A. Miles Arney, and family.

The nine-foot panther killed near Woodward, in 1895, by Lewis Dorman, is stuffed and on exhibition in the public schools at New Berlin.

Why not sled to Bellefonte and see the Corrall Comedy Company in the Garman opera house. They will be there all week. A fine place to spend an evening.

C. W. Slack, at Farmers Mills, will make sale of horses, cows, young cattle, implements, etc., the latter part of March, the exact date not having yet been determined.

William Witmore, of Chicago, son of Rev. Witmore, formerly a minister located at Mifflinburg, and Miss Sarah Steans, daughter of Dr. J. C. Steans, of Mifflinburg, were married recently.

Abraham B. Bitner, a successful farmer of Bald Eagle township, Clinton county, died Tuesday morning, aged seventy-seven years. He was born in Liberty township, this county.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

Tusseyville.

On Tuesday afternoon, James Spangler left for Chicago to be with his son, John J. Spangler, during his illness with typhoid fever. Several days ago Mrs. Spangler received a letter from her husband, who is now in the west, stating that their son was better, although very weak. The parents have the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. William Bitner and Mrs. William Martz spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Martz's sister, Miss Flora Love, at Centre Hall.

Miss Effie R. Ishler spent the past week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. H. J. Lambert, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Ezra Ripka and Mrs. Elmyra Moyer visited Mrs. Emanuel Smith, at Potters Mills, one day last week. Mrs. Smith is suffering with tuberculosis.

On Tuesday of last week professor P. H. Meyer, of Centre Hall, placed a piano in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rossman.

On Thursday morning of last week, while William Lingle of this place, was hauling a load of ties up the hill near the home of Edward Kline, he noticed a small stream of blood issuing from the mouth of one of his horses, and before the team reached the top of the hill, the animal began to bleed violently. Mr. Lingle began to remove the harness, but before the animal was free from the leather, it dropped over dead.

Owing to the serious nature of a sore on the side of his nose, John H. Ishler, of this place, left on Saturday for Tylersville where he will consult a physician.

Miss Ruth Rossman returned home on Saturday after spending the past three months at the Bible Institute, in Pittsburg. Her many friends welcome her back to her own little town.

Mrs. John Dashem and Mrs. Edward Mersinger and little son John visited several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Foreman, at Curtin.

William O. Heckman, who has been a student at Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, returned home for a vacation of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horner spent several days visiting at Altoona.

The story and song service observed in the United Evangelical church on Sunday evening was interesting and the church was very well filled.

Spring Mills.

Miss Edna Krape, of Centre Hall, spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. G. C. King.

Philip Leitzell, of Millheim, attended the funeral of Mr. Hanna on Friday.

Miss Clara Krape, of Centre Hall, spent Tuesday in town.

Misses Sadie Miller and Maggie Weaver, of Rebersburg, were visitors on Saturday at the home of Bright Bitner.

Rufus Finkle, of State College, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Finkle.

Many persons find themselves affected with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough can be promptly cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by Murray and Bitner.

TRIFLES OF THE WARDROBE

GRACIOUS HOUSE GOWN

FRENCH DRESSMAKER GIVES TIPS TO WORRYING WOMEN.

Quite Possible to Have House Clothes With Stamp of Elegance Without Too Much Expense—Dress for a Girl.

The unusual term "gracious" is not my own. It was employed by a clever little French dressmaker who was trying to explain to a group of worrying women in my presence that it was quite possible to have house clothes with a stamp of elegance without too much expense.

"The trouble with most American ladies," said madame, "is that they can only see the extremes of dress—that is, the rich material, the ornate cut—and so it is difficult to persuade them that an exquisiteness superior to splendor may be gained by really modest materials.

"Voyons, look at the true Parisians. Madame cultivates always the thing gracieuse, the design and stuff which will captivate and not astound. She prefers to melt into your notice, as it were, and not get there with a bound. She makes her costume a part of her, whatever its material, and she is wise enough to have a toilet for all occasions. Her house gowns—well, they are of softly falling materials, with guimpes and trimmings of muslin instead of lace. Muslin, white muslin—if you only knew its possibilities for the gracious thing! It demands dainty finishings, and in bits here and there may be a gown's entire trimming."

With this out came a pair of exquisite little frocks, each showing the white muslin touch, and each made with the round bodice with kimono sleeves which is so graceful and easily fitted.

The first creation was a yellow cotton voile flecked with a silk figure, and with the white muslin worked over coarsely with black for the trimming. The veiling formed a tunic, at the gathered bottom of which the muslin was put in two square chunks, the one at the front higher than that of the back.

Made by madame this little dress would cost $35, but with home making no more than $10, as the brilliant dressmaker herself admitted.

Our illustration shows a little dress for a girl of sixteen, the model lending itself especially well to this ingenue age. The two versions of the style display how the frock may be made either for street use or for the house, but since I am on the subject of home gown, pray let me say that there is the very thing for missy's dinner dress—the company dress, you know—or for her informal dance frock—or theater toilet.

A plain marquisette in pale blue, pink or yellow would be charming for this, the foundation slip in a matching silk. The gathered tucker and undersleeves would be pretty in white mull, or net, and if extra elegance is wanted the puffing used on the skirt might be of silk. Made entirely of a cotton voile, or some other inexpensive veiling, this dress would be very cheap, for with the exception of the guimpe it may be entirely self-trimmed. The model is an excellent one, too, for home making, little fitting being required, and if the mother who must do the sewing is looking for something very Frenchy and fixy, pray let her consider one of the flowered mousselines and trim it with silk. A gray muslin with pink flowers would be lovely over a slip of pink silk or lawn, and yellow would go beautifully over blue or violet. For the fainter mauves are all allowed young girls.

Misses Dress With Pretty Ingenue Qualities.

PRETTY TOUCH OF COLOR

Raven's Wing Velvet and Cloth Used In This Costume With Rose at Belt.

Raven's wing velvet and cloth is used to develop this costume, and a rich red satin rose is placed at the belt. The shaped flounce is of cloth and also the bolero yoke. The yoke and cuffs are of lace.

SMALL HATS SHOWN IN PARIS

Will Be Welcomed by Women Who Find It Impossible to Wear Large Picture Hats.

So many women who find it impossible to wear the fashionable large picture hats with any degree of comfort or becomingness, will welcome the new small hats upon which Paris is beaming just now.

These newest chapeaux are usually of lustrous black velvet or satin, for these are two of the most favored textures employed by Dame Fashion this year.

In shape these small hats usually have slight downward drooping brims and often high and dome-shaped crowns. Of sometimes there is a short curbing brim and a low dented crown, as in the case of a smart walking hat, which had folds of mirror velvet gracefully draped about the crown and a spray of uncurled feathers standing upright.

For Your Hands.

A cooked potato is excellent as a means of cleaning and whitening the hands. The potato should be cut in half and rubbed over the backs and fingers after they have been soaked for a minute or two in warm water. Potato should be used in this manner instead of soap.

If the hands have become very much stained with ink, they should be rubbed with lemon juice. Should this fail to remove the stains, a good plan is that of adding a little pearl ash to water and dipping the hands in the solution, rubbing them well with a piece of flannel until the marks have disappeared. Care must be taken to avoid washing them with soap for some time afterward or the spots will reappear.

Velvet Quills.

On many of the new hats this fall, instead of feather quills, quills are appearing formed simply of velvet, cut and stitched to the proper size and shape and fastened by a row of stitching down the middle to give the effect of the central vein. The quill is, of course, wired. The same idea can be worked out in satin also, and the whole can easily be duplicated by a clever woman with a turn for needlework. Strangely enough, many of the new feather toques, completely formed of feathers, are trimmed with these velvet quills. Surely a reversal of the usual conditions!

Mistletoe Is Dangerous.

Few people who know mistletoe only as a desirable feature of Christmas decorations understand that the plant is a parasite dangerous to the life of trees in the regions in which it grows. It is only a question of time, after mistletoe once begins to grow upon a tree before the tree itself will be killed. The parasite saps the life of the infected branches. Fortunately, it is of slow growth, taking years to develop to large proportions, but when neglected, it invariably ruins all trees it reaches.

English Women Smoke Pipes.

The latest fancy of the woman-smoker is a pipe—not the tiny affair that suffices for the Japanese, but a good-sized brier or a neat meerschaum. The pipe is boldly carried along with a gold card case and chain-purse. For some time now the cigarette has given place to a cigar, small in size and mild in quality. Women said they were tired of the cigarette, and wanted a bigger smoke. —London Mail.

Cripple Rides Bicycle.

George Anstey, aged 12, a cripple, of Leicester, England, is one of the most remarkable cyclists in the country. Both his legs are withered and useless, but the Leicester Cripples' Guild has provided him with a two-wheeled pedalless machine, with a padded tube covering the axle bar. Across this he lies face foremost, and with wooden clogs strapped to his hands he propels himself along the streets and roads in a marvelously rapid manner. He has complete control of the machine, his hands acting as pedals, steering gear, and brake combined.

Pretty Good Definition.

We hear some funny things in Fleet street sometimes, and the following definition of the height of aggravation, by a gentleman in rather shaky boots, whom we encountered in a well-known hostelry the other day, struck us as being particularly choice.

"The 'eight of haggravation, gentlemen," said this pothouse humorist, setting his pewter on the counter and looking round proudly, with the air of one about to let off a good thing, "the 'eight of haggravation—why, trying to ketch a flea out o' yer ear with a pair of boxin' gloves."—London Tit-Bits.

An Alaskan Luncheon.

Runners of woven Indian basketry, with white drawnwork doilies at each of the 12 covers, were used on an oval mahogany table. The doilies were made at Sitka. In the middle of the table a mirror held a tall central vase of frosted glass, surrounded by four smaller vases, all filled with white spring blossoms. The edge of the mirror was banked with the same flowers. Four totem poles were placed on doilies in the angles made by the runners.

Place cards were water colors of Alaskan scenery. Abalone shells held salted nuts, and tiny Indian baskets held bonbons. The soup spoons were of horn, several of the dishes used were made by Alaskan Indians, and the cakes were served on baskets.

The menu was as follows: Poisson a la Bering Sea (halibut chowder), Yukon climbers (broiled salmon, potatoes Julienne), snowbirds avec aurorlaborealis (roast duck with jelly), Shungnak river turnips, Tanana beets, Skagway hash (salad), Fairbanks nuggets (ripe strawberries arranged on individual dishes around a central mound of powdered sugar), arctic slices (brick ice cream), Circle City delights (small cakes), Klondike nuggets (yellow cheese in round balls on crackers), Nome firewater (coffee). —Woman's Home Companion.

Acknowledgment.

"You will admit that you owe a great deal to your wife?"

"I should say so," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I wouldn't be invited to any of her receptions or musicales if I wasn't married to her."

Disqualified.

Her—My brother won first prize in that amateur guessing contest, but they ruled him out as a professional.

Him—A professional?

Her—Yes. He's employed in the government bureau, you know.

Lightning Change.

The Manager—Can you make quick changes and double in a few parts?

The Actor—Can I? Say, you know the scene in "Love and Lobsters," where the hero and the villain are fighting, and a friend rushes in and separates 'em? Well, I played all three parts one night when the other two fellows were ill.

Not Altogether Dead.

Mr. Robert Butler of Marlborough, England, has had the peculiar experience of hearing his death announced. He was attending the poor law conference at Exeter when one of the delegates moved that, in consequence of the death of Mr. Butler, which they all regretted, another gentleman, whom he named, should be appointed to fill his place as one of the representatives of Wiltshire on the central committee. Mr. Butler rose from his place on the platform and announced to the conference, amid much amusement, that, so far as he was aware, he was still alive and in good health, and would be pleased to continue in the office if the conference desired.

Bankers and Bank Notes.

Four men, three of whom were connected with brokerage concerns in the Wall street district, were discussing United States paper currency and the disappearance of counterfeits. "We are so sure nowadays," said one of the party, "as to the genuineness of bills that little attention is paid to them in handling, except as to denomination." To prove his assertion he took a $10 yellowback from his pocket, and, holding it up, asked who could tell whose portrait it bore. No one knew, and by way of coaching the broker said it was the first treasurer of the United States. Again no one knew the name. "Why, It's Michael Hillegas," said the man proudly. "But in confidence, I'll tell you, I didn't know it five minutes ago."—New York Tribune.

Vivid at Least.

Dr. Hiram C. Cortlandt, the well-known theologian of Des Moines, said in a recent address:

"Thomas A. Edison tells us that he thinks the soul is not immortal; but, after all, what does this great wizard know about souls? His forte is electricity and machinery, and when he talks of souls he reminds me irresistibly of the young lady who visited the Baldwin locomotive works and then told how a locomotive is made.

"'You pour,' she said, 'a lot of sand into a lot of boxes, and you throw old stove lids and things into a furnace, and they you empty the molten stream into a hole in the sand, and everybody yells and swears. Then you pour it out and let it cool and pound it, and then you put it in a thing that bores holes in it. Then you screw it together, and paint it, and put steam in it, and it goes splendidly; and they take it to a drafting room and make a bluep rint of it. But one thing I forgot—they have to make a boiler. One man gets inside and one gets outside, and they pound frightfully; and then they tie it to the other thing, and you ought to see it go!'"

Echoes of Munchausen.

It was an absent-minded traveler who had lately taken to ballooning.

"Yes," he observed impressively, "It was a fearful journey. The machine, a thousand feet up, and no more ballast, headed straight for Siberia, and the rarefied air—well, you know as well as I do what effect that has on a balloon.. Yes, the peril was terrible." Then the old habit was too strong for him. "The wolves detected our presence. A desperate race ensued. We felt their hot breath on the nape of our necks."—London Globe.

Largest of Whales.

The largest whale of its type of which there is scientific record was captured recently off Port Arthur, Tex. He measured sixty-three feet in length, and was estimated to be about three hundred years old. Captain Cob Plummer, mate of a United States pilot boat, sighted the monster in the shoals off the jetties, and the crew of his vessel captured the mammal. The huge body was towed ashore, exhibited and much photographed before being cut up.

Rat Bounty Excites Merriment.

Seattle, fearing the introduction of bubonic plague by rats, has offered a bounty of ten cents a rat. This moves Tacoma, safe from infection from the sea, to raucous laughter, and the Ledger says that the bounty, "though not intended for rodents of Tacoma, Everett, Bellingham and other populous and busy centers, has been finding its way into the pockets of non-residents of Seattle for non-resident rats. But the joke would be on us if it were found that our rat population had found its way into the Seattle census."

Two Very Old Ladies.

We have heard a great deal lately about long-lived people, but it is probable that the oldest two people in the world today are Frau Dutkievitz and another old lady named Babavaslika.

The former lives at Posem, in Prussian Poland, and was born on February 21, 1785. She is therefore one hundred and twenty-five years old. The latter, however, is nine months her senior, having been born in May, 1784.

She is still a fairly hale old woman, and for nearly one hundred years worked in the fields. Her descendants number close on 100, and these now make her a joint allowance. She lives at the village of Bavelsko, whose neighborhood she has never quitted during the whole of her long life. She remembers events which happened at the beginning of last century much more clearly than those of the last 40 years.—Dundee Advertiser.

Too Ardent a Lover.

Georgotto Fontano, an embroiderer who lives in the Rue Sevres in Paris, has found herself condemned to a month's imprisonment for what seems to her a harmless act.

She was going home from a concert a few evenings ago when she decided she would like to see her fiance. As he happens to be a fireman whose station is in her own neighborhood it occurred to her it would be very easy to summon him to her side by breaking the glass of the fire alarm and sounding a call.

She did so and in a few moments fire engines came from several directions, all laden with firemen, of course, but alas! her fiance was not among them, and more than that all the firemen were angry, and before she knew what had happened she was taken to a magistrate, who proceeded to make the course of true love run unsmoothly by sending her to prison for a month in spite of her tears and protests that she thought it would be a simple way of bringing her fiance to her side.

The Bright Side.

Nebuchadnezzar was lurching in his accustomed style.

"All flesh being grass," he reflected, "this must be Beef a la Mowed."

And chuckling hoarsely, he took another chaw.—Puck.

Kindly Intentions.

"A man who enjoys seeing a woman in tears is a brute."

"I don't know about that," replied Miss Cayenne. "One of the kindest husbands I know takes his wife to see all the emotional plays."

Takes Himself Seriously.

Nicola Tesla, dining by himself in a hotel's great dining room, takes a table where he can be seen. Throughout his meal he wears a deeply studious, a completely absorbed, attitude. He may bring to the table a portfolio filled with papers. These he may scan with prolonged solemnity. In any event, he sits an eloquent tableau of profundity.—New York Press.

Holidays in the States.

Washington's birthday is a holiday in all states. Decoration day in all states but Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas. Labor day is observed everywhere. Virtually every state has legal holidays having to do with its own special affairs—battle of New Orleans in Louisiana, Texan independence and battle of San Jacinto in Texas, Admission day in California, and so on. Mississippi is like the federal government in lack of statutory holidays, but by common consent Independence day, Thanksgiving and Christmas are observed. A new one is Columbus day in a few of the states.

Planting Wedding Oaks.

Princess August Wilhelm, wife of the kaiser's fourth son, has set herself the task of reviving one of Germany's oldest customs, that according to which newly wedded couples immediately after the marriage ceremony plant a couple of oak saplings side by side in a park or by the roadside of their native town.

The town of Mulchausen, in Thuringia, is the first to respond to the princess' appeal. A municipal official appears at the church door after every wedding and invites the bride and bridegroom to drive with him in a carriage to a new road near the town and there plant oak saplings.

The tree planting idea was started by a former elector of Brandenburg with the object of repairing the ravages caused by the 30 years' war. The elector forbade young persons to marry until they had planted a number of fruit trees.

An Unnecessary Confession.

A hearty laugh was occasioned at the Birmingham police court by a prisoner who gave himself away in a very delightful manner. The man was the first on the list, and the charge against him was merely one of being drunk and disorderly. He stepped into the dock, however, just at the moment when the dock officer was reading out a few of the cases which were to come before the court that morning, and a guilty conscience apparently led him to mistake these items for a list of his previous convictions.

He stood passive enough while the officer read out about a dozen drunk and disorderlies, but when he came to one "shopbreaking" the prisoner exclaimed excitedly, "That was eight years ago, your honor," Everyone began to laugh, and the prisoner, realizing the blunder he had made, at first looked very black indeed, but finally saw the humorous side of the matter, and a broad smile spread over his face. His blunder did not cost anything.—Birmingham Mail.

That Suit for Libel

Against the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Gave a Splendid Chance to Bring Out Facts

A disagreement about advertising arose with a "weekly" Journal.

Following it, an attack on us appeared in their editorial columns; sneering at the claims we made particularly regarding Appendicitis.

We replied through the regular papers and the "weekly" thought we hit back rather too hard and thereupon sued for libel.

The advertisement the "weekly" attacked us about claimed that in many cases of appendicitis an operation could be avoided by discontinuing indigestible food, washing out the bowels and taking a predigested food Grape-Nuts.

Observe we said MANY cases not all.

Wouldn't that knowledge be a comfort to those who fear a surgeon's knife as they fear death?

The "weekly" writer said that was a lie.

We replied that he was ignorant of the facts.

He was put on the stand and compelled to admit he was not a Dr. and had no medical knowledge of appendicitis and never investigated to find out if the testimonal letters to our Co. were genuine.

A famous surgeon testified that when an operation was required Grape-Nuts would not obviate it. True.

We never claimed that when an operation was required Grape-Nuts would prevent it.

The surgeon testified bacteria [germs] helped to bring on an attack and bacteria was grown by undigested food frequently.

We claimed and proved by other famous experts that undigested food was largely responsible for appendicitis.

We showed by expert testimony that many cases are healed without a knife, but by stopping the use of food which did not digest, and when food was required again it was helpful to use a predigested food which did not overtax the weakened organs of digestion.

When a pain in the right side appears it is not always necessary to be rushed off to a hospital and at the risk of death be cut.

Plain common sense shows the better way is to stop food that evidently has not been digested.

Then, when food is required, use an easily digested food. Grape-Nuts or any other if you know it to be predigested (partly digested before taking).

We brought to Court analytical chemists from New York, Chicago and Mishawaka, Ind., who swore to the analysis of Grape-Nuts and that part of the starchy part of the wheat and barley had been transformed into sugar, the kind of sugar produced in the human body by digesting starch (the large part of food).

Some of the State chemists brought on by the "weekly" said Grape-Nuts could not be called a "predigested" food because not all of it was digested outside the body.

The other chemists said any food which had been partly or half digested outside the body was commonly known as "predigested."

Splitting hairs about the meaning of a word.

It is sufficient that if only one-half of the food is "predigested," it is easier on weakened stomach and bowels than food in which no part is predigested.

To show the facts we introduce Dr. Thos. Darlington, former chief of the N. Y. Board of Health, Dr. Ralph W. Webster, chief of the Chicago Laboratories, and Dr. B. Sachs, N. Y.

If we were a little severe in our denunciation of a writer, self-confessed ignorant about appendicitis and its cause, it is possible the public will excuse us, in view of the fact that our head, Mr. C. W. Post, has made a lifetime study of food, food digestion and effects, and the conclusions are indorsed by many of the best medical authorities of the day.

Is it possible that we are at fault for suggesting, as a Father and Mother might, to one of the family who announced a pain in the side: "Stop using the food, greasy meats, gravies, mince pie, cheese, too much starchy food, etc., etc., which has not been digested, then when again ready for food use Grape-Nuts because it is easy of digestion?"

Or should the child be at once carted off to a hospital and cut?

We have known of many cases wherein the approaching signs of appendicitis have disappeared by the suggestion being followed.

No one better appreciates the value of a skilful physician when a person is in the awful throes of acute appendicitis, but "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Just plain old common sense is helpful even nowadays.

This trial demonstrated Grape-Nuts food is pure beyond question.

It is partly predigested.

Appendicitis generally has rise from undigested food.

It is not always necessary to operate.

It is best to stop all food.

When ready to begin feeding use a predigested food.

It is palatable and strong in Nourishment.

It will pay fine returns in health to quit the heavy breakfasts and lunches and use less food but select food certainly known to contain the elements nature requires to sustain the body. May we be permitted to suggest a breakfast of fruit, Grape-Nuts and cream, two soft boiled eggs, and some hot toast and cocoa, milk or Postum?

The question of whether Grape-Nuts does or does not contain the elements which nature requires for the nourishment of the brain, also of its purity, will be treated in later newspaper articles.

Good food is important and its effect on the body is also important.

Dr. Fordney's Christmas Gift

by

Belle Maniates

DOCTOR Fordney came out of the big department store, deposited an armful of packages in his runabout, and then started to pay the last visit on his daily round. It was the afternoon before Christmas, but the young physician's heart was not filled with the proverbial holiday cheer. Good will he had toward all men—but not toward all women. One little spot of resentment lurked in his thoughts of June Leigh.

She had accepted his tender devotion with downcast eyes and an entrancing air of demureness and timidity combined. Then, suddenly, she had been transformed into the most bewildering of coquettes, openly flirting with a man the doctor detested.

At speed-limit rate, he drove his machine into the poorest of the poor precincts of the city and stopped before a forlorn-looking little house. He knocked and then opened the door. A pale, anxious-eyed woman came forward. He held up a cautioning finger and smiled as he deposited his load of toys in a corner.

"I see you have the wherewith for a Christmas dinner tomorrow," he said, glancing at a chicken on the table.

"A young lady brought us a basket of good things from the Aid society," she replied, smiling happily as she preceded him into the adjoining room.

A delicate little face with wan eyes looked up from the pillow.

"You are better, little Lou," he asserted, taking the tiny hand in his. "It's the thought of Christmas?"

"Yes, and a lovely young lady brought us a Christmas dinner, and there's jelly and pie. She is coming again tomorrow to see if Santa Claus came. I don't think he will, though."

"You must have faith in him and believe that he will come," assured the doctor. "You see he makes a mistake once in a while, but he wouldn't miss you twice. I feel sure that he will come."

"Oh, do you? If I could only see him? Do you think he would care if I remained awake?" asked the quaint little invalid.

"Well, you know he generally comes when everyone is asleep, but maybe, since you are sick and because he forgot you last year, he may come here first, early in the evening, and let you see him."

"Oh!" cried the child ecstatically.

"Maybe he'll have a Christmas tree here for you," said the doctor, his imagination taking lofty flights.

The child's eyes gleamed.

"No," she sighed. "That would be too beautiful."

The doctor asked a few questions, left some more medicine, and then beckoned the mother to follow him into the outer room.

"I will send a little tree and all the trappings as soon as I get back to the city. You have it all trimmed up and lighted at six o'clock. Then I'll come in and be Santa Claus."

"Oh, you musn't do so much," she protested, looking at the many parcels.

"I have no one in the world to do anything for," he said earnestly, "so you will be giving me all the Christmas cheer I shall get by letting me do this. And, more than that, it will do little Lou more good than a load of medicine."

He returned to the city for another shopping expedition and promptly at six o'clock he was back at the little home. On the door-step he slipped into a big fur coat, adjusted a beard and the usual Santa Claus make-up. Then he softly opened the door and slipped in. He gave an approving glance at the gaily-decorated, brilliantly-lighted little tree to which Mrs. Ellis was putting the last touches.

"That is fine!" he exclaimed.

"The young lady came back with a doll for Lou, and when I told her what you had done, she stayed and fixed it for me. She was here all the afternoon, stringing cranberries and popcorn, and making candy bags."

"I'll slip behind the tree, now, and you bring the little girl out. She won't be afraid of me, will she?"

"Oh, no; she loves Santa Claus!"

The doctor was more than repaid for his efforts by the cry of delight that issued from Lou when her mother brought her from the bed-room and propped her up in pillows in an old rocking chair.

"I couldn't find you last year," said Santa Claus in a gruff but tender voice, "but I have brought you enough this year to make up."

The tree was nearly stripped before Doctor Fordney discovered a tiny blue envelope addressed to Santa Claus in a handwriting that made his heart-beats quicken. He opened it and by the light of a tiny candle read that which made his Christmas eve an eve of beauty.

"And this is the last, little Lou," he said, carrying her a picture-book.

"Santa Claus, you won't forget Miss Leigh, the young lady who brought us the Christmas dinner?" she pleaded.

"Little Lou, I am going there right

"I Couldn't Find You Last Year," Said Santa Claus.

from here. She shall have everything she wants."

"And you won't forget Doctor Fordney?"

"No; I'll give him the best Christmas he ever had."

"But, Santa Claus, won't some one give you a present?"

"A beautiful lady is going to give me the loveliest gift in the whole world tonight," he said.

"Oh, I am so glad! I wish I could do something for you for all the things you have brought me."

"You can, little Lou. In half an hour will you go to bed and shut your eyes tight and try not to think of your presents, or the tree or of me until morning?"

He stooped to receive the imprint of baby lips and to feel the lingering pressure of soft arms about his neck.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

The year now drawing to a close will be notable for its harvests, the money value of its farm products being computed at close to nine billion dollars—a record figure. This fact forms the best possible basis for industrial advance next year. There is, however, little change in financial and business sentiment, which remains conservative and captious. The holiday trade is, nevertheless, opening up well, and in certain important centers the jobbing trade in staple merchandise is reported as improving. The colder weather has been beneficial to most merchants and the heavy fall of snow is most seasonable.

Continued restriction of output has not prevented steady accumulation of pig-iron stocks, and the movement to curtail operations is expected to be carried still further. Existing conditions in the pig-iron market reflect increased dullness, and sellers are offering concessions in some instances in order to stimulate business.

FIGHTING THE WHITE PLAGUE

Number of State Institutions Is Double During the Past Two Years.

Sixteen state sanatoria, 28 county hospitals and 21 municipal hospitals for tuberculosis have been erected and provided for since January 1, 1909, says a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Within the last two years the number of state institutions for tuberculosis has doubled, and the number of county and municipal institutions has increased from about 30 to 80. The expenditures of public money for the treatment of tuberculosis also has more than doubled. Not less than $3,000,000 of state money was appropriated for tuberculosis institutions in 1909, when 43 legislatures met, and over $600,000 in 1910, when only 11 legislatures were in session. The appropriations of counties and cities for tuberculosis hospitals and sanatoria in the last two years will aggregate fully $2,500,000, bringing the total of official appropriations for tuberculosis hospitals up to over $6,000,000 in the past two years.

In spite, however, of this good showing, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis states that not one-tenth of the public provision for tuberculosis that is needed has been made. More than 250,000 tuberculosis patients are constantly without proper institutional treatment.

The Modern Way.

A couple of young men on the Market street viaduct the other evening offered a new version of an old saw. After they had passed a couple of auburn-haired damsels one of the young men took his stand at the curb and gazed up and down the bridge.

"What are you looking for?" inquired his companion.

Pointing to the red-headed girls, the young man answered: "I'm trying to see a white automobile."—Youngstown Telegram.

"Of course I am, sir. Don't I caddy for you at the Country club?"—Success.

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

(Less 5 per ct. for cash with order)

THE RED TAG ALFALFA is the latter cut and is fine and green.

THE PINK TAG ALFALFA is green but a bit coarser than Red Tag Alfalfa. Otherwise the Pink Tag Alfalfa is first quality.

Sold only in bale lots, which run about 100 lbs. per bale. Prices quoted mean delivered f. o. b. at Centre Hall station, on L. & T. R. R.

Orders will now be booked for December delivery. The quantity is limited, as only the surplus over a car load is offered at these prices. Last year many requests came too late.

THE FELLOW WHO REFERRED to life insurance as a gambling game may have had good intentions, but he had bad judgment. It is the one business transaction which is not a gamble. Life insurance is intended primarily to offset as far as possible the loss to the world by reason of the death of a producer. And death is a sure thing. It is the one safe bet. That is why it will pay you to anticipate the inevitable. It is well known that a dead man's salary continues, but not in a satisfactory manner. It is drawn by the other fellow. There is such a thing as arranging so that your widow can draw yours. We can show you. That is why we ought to get together. We also have some easy chairs for old age. They are called Endowments.
